Jivanta Hotel Facilitates visitors:

There is never a dull time at Jivanta, with facilities intended to make your stay more comfortable and memorable!

Rooms you are provided will give you much-needed tranquilly. This accommodation, which faces the resort's backside, features sophisticated décor, decorative light fixtures, and spacious bathrooms. It's also ideal for couples and small families.

Some of the sights in Panchgani are breathtaking:

Sydney Point is a hillock that overlooks the Krishna Valley.

Table Land is best visited in early winter when the monsoon grass is still there and the land is not as slick as it is during the rainy season.

Parsi Point: On the route to Mahabaleshwar, this lovely picnic area overlooks the Krishna valley and the blue glittering water of the Dhom Dam.

Devil's Kitchen: The Pandavas from the Mahabharat epic are said to have stayed here and prepared their meals. Pandavgad Caves are also reported to have been created by them (near Wai).

Mala's Fruit Products: Mala's is known for producing some of India's greatest jams. The term "JAM" was coined by Malas in India. Panchgani is Mala's Fruit's hometown.

Sherbaug: It's a beautiful area in Panchgani's hill station where you may see swans, rabbits, and turkeys.

The Rajpuri Caves are surrounded by several holy ponds. Bathing in the holy pools, pilgrims think, will cure them of all illnesses.
